CORAM; A.M.KHANWILKAR J.

DATED l3.4.2006

P.C.

. Heard parties.

. The order impugned in this appeal is an interlocutory order passed by the lower court during the pendency of the suit, as back as on 20.9.2002. The appellants- original defendant nos. 2 and 4 have suffered the order since then. The grievance of the appellant that injunction has been granted to him to include the reliefs, although such prayer was not made, does not commend to me. I find substance in the approach of the court below that the relief was wide enough as it referred injunction against servants, agents and otherwise against defendant nos. 2 and 3. In my opinion, no interference is warranted in respect of the impugned order at this stage. Instead, this appeal is disposed of with direction to the trial court to expedite the hearing of the suit no.323 of l992 preferably by the end of March 2007. All questions on merits are left open to be decided at the trial.
